

How To Cancel McAfee Auto Renewal

(((help

To stop McAfee auto-renewal, first visit mcafee.com and sign in to your account. Navigate to Subscriptions or My Account to view your current plans.

Next, toggle off the Auto-Renewal option. McAfee may prompt you with a confirmation notice or ask why you're turning off renewal. Follow the on-screen instructions to finalize the cancellation. When auto-renewal is disabled, McAfee will not charge you again at the end of your current subscription period.

If you were recently billed and want to avoid future charges, it's best to cancel as soon as possible. While canceling stops future payments, it does not automatically issue a refund. If you need a refund, you must contact McAfee's customer support separately through their Support or Billing Help page.

After cancellation, you can continue using McAfee until the subscription period ends. Be sure to keep confirmation emails for your records in case you need proof of cancellation later.
